

Kopans: There Is A Coordinated Effort To Deny Women Access To Mammography Screening.

In an opinion article for Aunt Minnie (4/28), contributor Dr. Daniel Kopans writes that “it is now clear that there is a coordinated effort to deny women access to mammography screening.” Kopans writes that nearly “every week there is a ‘coincidental’ attack on mammography screening that appears in either Annals of Internal Medicine, New England Journal of Medicine (NEJM), Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA), or BMJ.” According to Kopans, “One has to ask how there is such a concentration of arguments against screening, yet, to the uninformed, there seem to be no arguments being published in support of screening (they are actually being published in journals not carefully covered by the media).”